Reverend Dr. Jeremiah A. Wright, Jr. became Pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ (TUCC) on March 1, 1972. Within a matter of months he demonstrated an understanding and deep commitment to help TUCC achieve its motto and vision. The motto, "Unashamedly Black and Unapologetically Christian", was a phrase coined by his predecessor, the Reverend Dr. Reuben Sheares, and was officially adopted by the congregation shortly after Pastor Wright began his ministry.

Trinity United Church of Christ's membership currently exceeds 8,000 and in May 1997 a new 2,700 seat worship center was dedicated. The membership continues to grow numerically and spiritually with large numbers of members tithing and participating in bible classes. Over 70 ministries are offered to enhance our Christian journey. Pastor Wright holds a Doctor of Ministry Degree from United Theological Seminary, a Master's degree from Howard University, an additional Master's degree from the University of Chicago Divinity School and seven honorary doctorate degrees.
